Dear Future Employer,

I am a current participant of the Disney College Program working as a cast member at Kilimanjaro Safaris. The college program and placement at Safaris allows me to demonstrate my abilities to successfully solve problems while being on stage with as many as 45 guests at a time. I simultaneously entertain and educate them on free roaming animals while driving through a 22-minute ride path. I interact with hundreds of guests a day and can comfortably manage being on stage for long periods of time.

I am graduating from Georgia State University with a Bachelor of Arts in journalism and a concentration in multimedia reporting. Within my program, I gained skills such as effectively communicating an idea within limited parameters, writing professional leads, and creating original media content using multiple mediums. This includes a working knowledge of video and photo editing software like Adobe's Premiere Pro, Lightroom, Photoshop, and InDesign.

In addition to my university and formal work, I run a website that focuses on my international travel. My posts consist of original content in the form of articles, gifs, reviews, and photography. The website chronicles ways that people can deal with culture shock, traveling alone, and language barriers. I also publicly write works of fiction that have garnered more than 50,000 views and counting.

I was an au pair in Madrid, Spain for two young boys and my international experience has enabled me to work through extenuating circumstances while finding ways to communicate and problem solve. These circumstances in both my au pair job and at Safaris often includes a language barrier where I am unable to speak the same language as my peers and/or guests. I can proficiently problem solve when presented with significant barriers such as those and work efficiently under pressure.

My resumé will give you a broader look at what I will bring to this position and I would be happy to provide greater detail about my skills and experience during an interview. You can also review my LinkedIn profile and my online portfolio respectively at www.linkedin.com/in/essencebijan and essencebijan.com/behind-the-camera. I look forward to hearing from you soon.
